Ill Fated House.

The 6-room residence of Tom Thomas, in East Hickman, caught fire Tuesday afternoon, and was burned to the ground. The fire originated in the kitchen, but just how, Mrs. Thomas did not know, as it was well under way when discovered.

Help arrived and most of the household goods were saved. The place was valued at about $1,000, and was insured. This seems to have been an ill fated house. It contained timber from the old Court House, which was torn down several years ago. The house until five years ago stood on the side of the hill between Kimbro's livery stable and J. W. Bland's residence. A long, steady rain softened the ground on which it stood and the house slid down the hill. It was then torn apart and moved to the location in East Hickman, near the paint shops, where it burned.

In the conflagration Fulton county lost a storage shed worth about $200, where they house the grader, plows, wagons, etc. These were moved out and saved, but the building was totally destroyed.

Jas. Bradberry's residence caught fire and was damaged several hundred dollars. It was saved only by hard work as a stiff breeze was blowing.

Atty. A. M. Tyler left Tuesday for Clinton, Mo., on business.

THE END OF TUBERCULOSIS

Fake Cures For Consumption.

By SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS.

Any nostrum which claims to cure tuberculosis is a detriment to the patient, since, if it does no worse, it at least diverts him from the careful regimen of life wherein lies his best chance of recovery. Tuberculosis nostrums, therefore, may be divided into the positively harmful and the negatively harmful classes. In the first class I should put all those containing opium, hashish, chloroform and any considerable quantity of alcohol. Every physician whose work takes him into the slums well knows the typical history of the consumptive working man who puts his faith in this class of nostrums. Stimulated by the alcohol or lulled by the morphine into fictitious hopefulness or security, he continues his unchanged habits of life until the final breakdown comes with appalling swiftness. To those of the medical profession I leave it to say how swiftly incipient tuberculosis becomes galloping consumption under the influence of these drugs.

HORRIBLE THOUGHT!

Why you see I just happened to think....

When women adopt trousers and men put on corset coats....

our wives may make us wear out their OLD CLOTHES!!

Here's to all good fellows
In this world and the next
I drink to you a toast tonight—
Good fellowship my text.

Not the fellow that takes your hand
In an idling hour, you know;
Not the fellow that slaps your back
As long as the highballs flow;
But the chap that speaks a kindly word
When the world is running wrong—
The fellow that grips your hand like steel
And tells you life's a song.
What if he knows that sucker lies?
What if he knows it, too?
There are times in life when the friend that lies
Is the only friend that is true.
Cavil and rant, ye prudes who will,
Of the evils of wine and gin—
But, somehow, the real, true things we feel
Leap out when the wine leaks in.
The fool is a fool, the cad is a cad,
Whoever God means him to be.
But the man that's a man won't forget he's a man
Tho' he's out on a well-oiled spree.

So drink to this toast from your hearts,
My friends,
From a heart to a heart let it run:
Here's to good fellows all over the world,
Their health, and bless them every one.

Insurrectos Want Peace.

El Paso, Tex., Mar. 21.—That the terms of peace between Diaz and Madero, as drawn here last week, have been accepted by the insurrecto president and that the end of the revolution is expected within a fortnight was the announcement made here by the insurrecto junta.

Details of the peace terms were carried to the Mexican government by Jose Yves Limantour, Mexican minister of finance, and, upon his arrival at Mexico City, the insurrectos declared, would be formally presented to President Diaz.

The peace terms will call for the retirement of the aged president. The insurgent leaders are absolutely confident they will be accepted.

Madero's inactivity during the last few days is attributed by his advisers to the peace plans which were conveyed by courier to him after being drawn up here. The insurrectos say that if Limantour is successful in his mission, which is undoubtedly one of peace, negotiations will be begun immediately and the peace pact will be signed by envoys of Diaz and Madero on the border while American troops guard the negotiations.

40 ESCAPE FROM FIRE

Springfield (Mo.) Y. M. C. A. Razed by Blaze Originating From the Furnace.

Springfield, Mo., Mar. 21.—Forty persons, two of them women, escaped narrowly when the large Y. M. C. A. building and dormitories burned to the ground. When the fire was discovered it had gained much headway before an alarm was sent in.

The loss is estimated to be about $100,000. Much of the furnishings had just been put in. There was $15,000 insurance on the building and $2,000 on its contents. The loss of roomers alone is estimated at about $15,000.

Announcement was made by the board of directors that a new site would be purchased and a building erected shortly. The lot occupied by the destroyed building is across the street from the three of the largest buildings in the city. It is supposed the fire originated from the furnace.

AIRSHIP PILOT DROWNED

Balloon Dusseldorf Falls in Zuyder Zee and Paul Kayfer Loses His Life by Drowning.

Berlin, Mar. 21.—The German balloon Dusseldorf was blown into the Zuyder Zee and the pilot, Paul Kayfer, one of the best known aeronauts in Germany, was drowned and his passenger was rescued uninjured and in a half-drowned condition.

The death of Kayfer was the seventh balloon fatality during the last three months, and has resulted in a general agitation against the sport.

Make Home Beautiful.

Nothing beautifies the home grounds like a few well selected roses. The Courier is going to make it possible for every one of its readers to beautify his or her home grounds without a cent of cost. We will send you the six everblooming one-year-old roses described below, absolutely free of charge if you will send us only $1.25 to pay for the Courier one year and The Farmer & Stockman one year. What is more, we will send you complete instructions on planting and care with each collection. These instructions are written by an Ohio florist, one of the most successful on earth.

The roses will be sent postpaid by The Farmer & Stockman direct from the florist in Ohio, any time you wish. You can order the collection now, before the supply is exhausted and have them shipped any time you wish before May 1st.

Roses may be planted any time between this and May 1st. Better order now before the supply is exhausted. Thousands are ordering these plants now, and the supply may be exhausted if you wait until April to order. The Farmer & Stockman will hold the roses for you until you are ready to plant them. Do not take chances by waiting.
